

Saskatchewan Breeding Bird Atlas - A Public-Private Partnership for Conservation

Bird Studies Canada

$25,000 Grant

The Saskatchewan Breeding Bird Atlas is an eight-year public-private partnership for conservation that will provide an up-to-date assessment of the distribution and relative abundance of populations of breeding birds throughout the province.

COMMUNICATION AND EDUCATION

- Delivered 12 Breeding Bird Atlas training workshops to 219 participants.
- 2 Bird ID workshops were completed, with 65 attendees.
- 7 "How to participate in the Atlas" presentations were given to approximately 370 attendees.
- The project was promoted to an estimated audience of 900 at 6 outreach events.

SCIENCE

- 248 Participants were engaged by 677 atlas squares receiving sampling effort.

CONSERVATION PLANNING

- Steering Committee and Regional Coordinator meetings were held.

Mountain Bluebird carrying food. Photo credit: Bird Studies Canada.

